PREFACE

This report, the fourth of its kind in the Caribbean Community (CARICOM), highlights statistics on International Trade in Services for fourteen (14) Member States of the Region. It reflects the outcomes of the capacity building efforts that were undertaken since 2001 to develop statistics on International Trade in Services for key users such as trade analysts and negotiators. The project, CARICOM Protocol II Trade Facilitation Project which was funded by the Canadian International Development Agency and included a situational assessment on the status of Statistics on International Trade in Services, provided recommendations on how to produce these statistics. Following this project the first regional report on trade in services statistics was produced containing data from 1990-2000.

Support for the advancement of this area of statistics was undertaken under a project funded by the European Union, Ninth European Development Fund (EDF), Caribbean Integration Support Programme (CISP), Statistical Component - Result 4 - Improved and Harmonised Economics Statistics Delivered and Disseminated. The overall objective of this project was to provide information to decision makers for the establishment and monitoring of the CARICOM Single Market and Economy (CSME).

Specifically, in the area of International Trade in Services statistics the project, Development and Implement the CARICOM Economic Statistics Action Plan (CESAP), Trade in Services and Investment Statistics which was executed in 2010, sought to build statistical capacity of Trade in Services and Investment Flows statistics, in collaboration with regional and international organisations and institutions, through the delivery of technical assistance and regional and national training. This project was executed during 2008 to 2010.

The Regional Statistics Programme also executed work in this area in collaboration with United States Agency for International Development (USAID) funded- Caribbean Trade and Competitiveness Programme (CTRADECOM). This project was conducted during the period 2004 - 2005. It followed on from the conclusion of a 2001 Situational Assessment Report 'Strengthening the Capacity of National Authorities and Regional Organisations' in respect of Services Statistics within the context of adequacy in meeting the needs of existing users, particularly the needs of policy makers and trade negotiators. The Project was aimed at undertaking a review of compilation of existing data on worksheets to compile statistics on Trade in Services and on Investment Flows and on developing methods to fill the data gaps identified. Compilation activities were executed based on work with the relevant stakeholders from six countries that were visited: Barbados, Belize, Jamaica, and Saint. Lucia, St. Vincent and the Grenadines and Trinidad and Tobago. This exercise highlighted the operational constraints faced by the statistical programme, the level of knowledge and technical skills involved, and explored with the officials the feasibility of proposals for improvement

The project also supported the development of Common Guidelines to be used by Member States and Associate Members in compiling Statistics on Trade in Services. Additionally, the project supported a review of survey instruments, questionnaires, data collection procedures, sampling methodology including methods of estimation and imputation for non-response. It also sought to review a questionnaire format identified by the Secretariat relative to the collection of data by trading partners. A number of national workshops were held as well as an overall regional training workshop to identify and inform on best practices in the compilation of these statistics.

Further, the Secretariat received funds from the European Union under the Tenth European Development Fund (EDF), through the Caribbean Export Development Agency (Caribbean Export) to continue implementation of its initiatives to support development of a framework for compilation of statistics on trade in services in Member States of the CARICOM. The project focused on further improving and bridging the data gaps that exists in the Region at the level of the Extended Balance of Payment Services (EBOPS) classification, as recommended in the Manual of Statistics on International Trade in Services (MSITS) 2010, as well as reinforcing and enabling the implementation of frameworks that have been produced under the Ninth EDF such as the refinement of a Common Core Trade in Services Questionnaire(s) that was developed by the Regional Statistics Programme to compile detailed additional data on intra/extra regional trade in services statistics and data by modes of delivery.

The project was executed from June 1 to December 31, 2016, and one of the first results achieved was the completion of situational assessment report by the lead consultant, based on analysis of the questionnaires submitted. In-country missions were completed for several countries including Dominica, Grenada, Saint Lucia and Suriname. The in-country visits included training, the support to conduct of the pilot and a public sensitisation meeting which was funded. A regional training workshop was also conducted.

More recently, additional developmental work was conducted in this area through a pilot project on International Trade in Services by Trading partners during 2016 under funding from CARIFORUM-European Development Fund (EDF). Specifically, the project addressed intra-regional trade in services statistics similar to estimating intra-regional trade in goods. Of the countries that were utilised in the project, two countries, Antigua and Barbuda and Dominica, showed appreciable results. These countries were and are encouraged to continue the thrust to produce these statistics by trading partners based on the prior technical assistance.

Piloting the TIS Questionnaire was a key component of the project activities. Response rates in this regard, however, varied from country to country. Member States participating in the pilot were advised to focus on the emerging services sectors and to de-emphasise the hotel sector. The results showed that several of the small/emerging services sectors were not covered in the BOP survey register and therefore some time had to be spent building the sample frame. The outreach with targeted establishments also revealed that there was full appreciation of the need to undertake the data collection of the trade in services questionnaire, but it was generally felt that additional education on completing the questionnaire correctly would be needed prior to the launch of the questionnaire.

A Regional Workshop on International Trade in Services Statistics was held in Antigua and Barbuda during 21-25 November 2016 and sought to review the results of the project outcomes, specifically the testing of the questionnaire for the collection of trade in services statistics by trading partners in the six (6) pilot countries that volunteered, the training that was undertaken at the national level in the collection of more detailed data on services in accordance with the latest international standard and in the compilation of FATS and the harmonisation of the capacity-building activities in the pilot countries among others.

Some key recommendations arising out of the training workshop were that officers throughout the Region needed to review key Manuals and Guides more closely, continue to implement the BPM6 and the aim should be for this to be completed by 2017 and that pilot countries to intensify the collection of data by trading partners.

Post the completion of the pilot activity, countries were encouraged to try to obtain responses, or more responses from the establishments. The results in the case of these two countries were quite promising relative to disaggregating trade data by intra-CSME/ extra-CSME.

Similar to the Third publication, this Fourth publication is a mix of data that Member States actually produced on the EBOPS and data compiled by the Regional Statistics Programme of the CARICOM Secretariat. The Regional Statistics Programme (RSP) compiled annual Trade in Services Statistics up to 2018 for fourteen (14) Member States, namely, the countries of the Eastern Caribbean Currency Union (ECCU), The Bahamas, Barbados, Belize, Guyana, Jamaica, Suriname and Trinidad and Tobago. Of the fourteen (14) Member States, data were extracted from the websites of the Central Bank of nine (9) Member States, while data were submitted by four (4) Member States.

All of the nine (9) Member States for which data was extracted presented their information in the EBOPS format. None of the four (4) Member States submitting their data presented the same in EBOPS format. Of the fourteen Member States for which data was submitted or extracted, twelve (12) produce their BOP statistics in accordance with the Sixth Edition of the Balance of Payments Manual (BPM6). As at the end-2018, Barbados is the only Member State yet to implement the BPM6 recommendations as well as present its information in the EBOPS 2010 format.

While acknowledging that data gaps exist in the data, this report reflects the attempts made by countries to provide detailed services statistics, post the projects that were executed in the Region in 2001/2002 and 2004/2005 and more recently building on the work undertaken during the EU, Ninth EDF Project in 2010 in the Region.

Essentially the approach that has been activated in the Region to produce services statistics includes the following:

All Member States should ensure that data for the BOP are compiled according to the standard components of the BPM6 which should be followed by movement to the EBOPS 2010;

Additionally, there is also the need to produce more detailed industry data at the level of production of services and to closely link the data on production with that on trade as well as to produce data on trade in services by origin and destination or trading partner. It is important in this regard that there is collaboration between the National Statistical Office and the Central Banks;

Relative to the filling of the data gaps, it may be necessary on a selective basis to focus on key categories of services to target the development of these statistics;

National statistical offices have also been encouraged to activate the process of obtaining more comprehensive Statistical Business Registers (SBR);, to update their questionnaire formats and to pay attention to improving response rates in establishment and other surveys;

The production of common methodological guidelines for the compilation of statistics on International Trade in Services, is in its draft stages. The guidelines were developed under the C-TRADECOM Project in 2004/2005 and further work was done to refine same under the EU, Ninth EDF Project. Efforts are being made to make it more user-friendly and also to ensure that it is in keeping with the MSITS 2010 recommendations. However, the manual has been circulated to countries for feedback;

The development of CARICOM Economic Statistics Action Plans (CESAP), Trade in Services for each Member State which should detail their current capacity to compile services statistics at the level of the EBOPS and recommendations for filling the data gaps, an output of the EU, 9th EDF Project should be pursued as part of the implementation of the common Regional Statistical Work Programme (RSWP0 which was prepared by the Standing Committee of Caribbean Statisticians and the Secretariat and approved by the Community Council of Ministers in 2005. The RSWP was also updated under two complementary projects the EU Ninth EDF and an Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) – funded project on Common Framework for Statistics Production ; and

The development of a common core services questionnaire alluded to earlier, which will seek to compile detailed services statistics by partner countries is a key output of the EU, Ninth EDF Project.

The challenge that lies ahead is evident and will be even greater for product level details. It is obvious in some cases that estimates are not made for certain categories of services or are inadequate and incomplete. It is expected that over time the data gaps would be reduced as work continues in this area, specifically with the implementation of the Common Guidelines which provides guidance to countries on the compilation of services statistics and the Common Core Questionnaire which seeks to compile additional detailed data by partner country. In this regard it is anticipated that a questionnaire which was developed under the Ninth EDF will be piloted in some countries focusing on these selected categories of services under Tenth EDF Economic Partnership Agreement funding.

GENERAL NOTES

CARICOM refers to the Caribbean Single Market and Economy (CSME) and The Bahamas. The Caribbean Common Market has been transformed into the CSME upon the signing of the nine Protocols revising the Treaty of Chaguaramas. The Bahamas is not a part of the CSME.

Figures may not always add up due to rounding errors.

In the case of Barbados, Trade in Services data was submitted up to 2016, while the information for 2017 and 2018 were extracted from an economic report 'Review of Barbados' Economic Performance' and which were not in the EBOPS format.

Figures at the levels of CARICOM, MDCs, LDCs and OECS, exclude those countries for which data may not be available.

Credits refer to the Exports or Receipt of services, while Debits refer to the Imports or Payments of Services.

All tables and graphs are presented in United States (US) Dollars. Except for Guyana, Jamaica, Trinidad and Tobago, data for the other Member States were originally extracted in the National currency and then converted to the US dollar for comparison purposes.

Billion refers to 1,000 million.

Royalties and License fees has been renamed to Charges for the use of intellectual property n.i.e, in the new BPM6, EBOPS Classification.

Telecommunications, computer and information services may include Postal Courier and Services for some countries, which is now subsumed under Transportation in the new BPM6, EBOPS.

CONCEPTS AND DEFINITIONS

1. General Note on the Framework of International Trade in Services Statistics¹

1.1 Basic Framework

The United Nations Manual on Statistics of International Trade in Services (MSITS 2010) provides guidelines for statistical compilers and users of statistics on international trade in services. The statistical framework in this manual builds upon two international agreed standards of data compilation: the Balance of Payments and International Investment Position Manual, Sixth Edition (BPM6) and the System of National Accounts 2008 (2008 SNA). These two frameworks are consistent.

Foreign Affiliate Statistics (FATS)

Foreign Affiliate Statistics (FATS) measure the commercial presence abroad of service suppliers through affiliates in foreign markets. This represents an extension of the meaning of trade in services to cover the value of services delivered through locally affiliated enterprises, unlike in the BPM6 where coverage is restricted to service transactions between residents and non-residents. FATS statistics are not included in this report.

The Four GATS Modes of Supply

The concept of Modes of Supply seeks to address the modalities through which services are delivered. Under the GATS, the modalities by which services are delivered are central to the measurement of international trade in services. These modes are:

Mode 1: Cross border supply

Cross-border supply takes place when the consumer remains in his or her home territory while the service crosses the border, the supplier being located in another country. Examples of the delivery of this mode of delivery are: fax, Internet, telephone, mail and so forth. Freight services associated with the transport of goods and correspondence courses are examples of services delivered by this mode.

Mode 2: Consumption abroad

Consumption abroad occurs when a consumer moves outside his or her home territory and consumes services in another country. Tourist activities such as visits to museums, theatres, and accommodation expenditure are examples of consumption abroad.

Mode 3: Commercial presence

Commercial presence covers those services that entail the establishment of a commercial presence abroad to ensure close contact with the consumer in his or her home territory during production, delivery and after-delivery. Commercial presence covers juridical persons in the strict legal sense and also legal entities, such as branches, representative offices, and subsidiaries of foreign companies.

Mode 4: Presence of Natural Persons

Presence of Natural Persons occurs when an individual moves to the territory of the consumer to provide a service on his or her own behalf or on behalf of his or her employer. Presence of natural persons covers non-permanent employment in the country of the consumer. Examples. are short-term professionals, intra-corporate staff transfers, short-term employment of foreign staff in foreign affiliates, construction workers and domestic helpers.

Concept of Residence

This is a fundamental concept to the BOP since the transactions that are included in the BOP are those that occur between residents and non-residents. The concept of residence is based on two notions: the centre of economic interest and the economic territory of a country. The economic territory of a country comprises the geographic territory administered by a government. Within this territory persons, goods and capital move freely. Included in the economic territory are the airspace, territorial waters and continental shelf lying in international waters over which the country enjoys exclusive rights or claims to have jurisdiction over-fishing rights and so forth. Territorial enclaves of a country in the rest of the world such as embassies, consulates and military bases form part of the economic territory of that country. However, free zones, bonded warehouses and offshore enterprises form part of the economic territory of the country in which these are located.

With respect to the notion of the centre of economic interest, an institutional unit has a centre of economic interest within a country when there exists, within the economic territory of the country, some location, dwelling, place of production or other premises in or from which it engages in economic activities on a significant scale for a period of time usually for one year or more.

Under the concept of residence in the BPM5, the domestic sales of a foreign affiliate (FATS) are not included in the BOP. However, these services are included in international trade in services. The concept of residence is also not based on nationality.

1.2 Classification Systems for Trade in Services

There are five main classifications that are relevant to be mentioned. The BPM6 standard components of the IMF (Annex I), services component is essentially the foundation for the production of statistics on international trade in services. The other classifications of importance to services are the EBOPS, the GATS Services Sectoral Classification (GNS/W/120), the United Nations Central Product Classification (CPC version 2.0) and particularly with regard to production the International Standard Industrial Classification of all Economic Activities (ISIC) -Revision 4. The EBOPS 2010 is essentially a disaggregation of the BPM6 classification just as the EBOPS based on the MSITS 2002 is a disaggregation of a Joint Organisation of Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD)-Eurostat Trade in Services Classification. The EBOPS classification, MSITS2010 version is shown in Annex II.

The GATS Services Sectoral classification (GNS/W/120) identifies a list of relevant sectors and sub-sectors of services which resulted from consultations with member countries. The list facilitates negotiations of specific commitments with regards to national services regulations and is therefore considered a classification for negotiation purposes rather than statistical. This list is reproduced in Annex III.

The CPC constitutes a comprehensive product classification covering both goods and services. The main aim of establishing the CPC classification was to derive an international standard for compiling and disseminating data requiring product details such as in national accounts (covering both goods and service industries), domestic and foreign commodity trade, international trade in services, balance of payments, industrial production, consumption and price statistics. The CPC is harmonized with the Harmonized Commodity Description and Coding System (HS) with respect to the classification of goods. Correlation between the EBOPS 2010 and the CPC version 2.0 have been attempted by the United Nations Statistics Division (UNSD) but this link is partial (MSITS2010, Page 37, Paragraph 3.48).

The ISIC Rev. 4 is utilised to facilitate data comparison in the areas of economic and social statistics such as industrial production, value added and employment. The ISIC is a standard classification of productive economic activities in accordance with the kind of activity of an enterprise or establishment.

1.3 Recommendations for the Compilation of Statistics on International Trade in Services

The summary of recommendations with respect to the compilation of statistics on international trade in services from the Manual on Statistics of International Trade in Services 2010 is outlined below (MSITS 2010, Pages 5-7):

The BPM6 is to be implemented including the definition, valuation, classification and recording of services transactions between residents and non-residents.

Data on services transactions between residents and non-residents of an economy should be compiled according to the EBOPS 2010. Where a phased approach to the implementation of the sub-components of the EBOPS2010 is used, compilers should start with those elements of greatest importance to their respective economies. Where data for supplementary items are available these should be reported. In addition, the aim should be to report partner country detail at the level of total services traded and then for each of the main categories of the BPM6 and then for EBOPS2010.

Collect complete information on FDI- flows, income and end of period positions classified by ISIC rev 4. Partner country detail of FDI is recommended at the aggregate and for major activities.

Record certain basic FATS-related variables such as Sales/Turnover and/or Output, employment, value added, exports and imports of goods and services and number of enterprises. Data can also be reported at the ICFA Rev 1 level to international organizations. It is recommended that partner country detail be reported in the aggregate and for the major industry categories for ICFA rev1.

2. Concepts and Definition of Services

2.1 Definition of Services

The MSITS 2010 uses the definition in accordance with the 2008 SNA (2008 SNA, para. 6.17), as follows (MSITS 2010, Pages 8-12):

Services are the result of a production activity that changes the conditions of the consuming units, or facilitates the exchange of products or financial assets. These types of service may be described as change-effecting services and margin services, respectively. Change-effecting services are outputs produced to order and typically consist of changes in the conditions of the consuming units realized by the activities of producers at the demand of the consumers. They can also be referred to as “transformation services”. Change-effecting services are not separate entities over which ownership rights can be established. They cannot be traded separately from their production. By the time the production is completed, they must have been provided to the consumers follows (MSITS 2010, Pages 8-12):

The data for the current report were derived from the Extended Balance of Payments Services (EBOPS) Classification that was disseminated by countries and compiled by the CARICOM Secretariat. In the case of Guyana, the data was extracted from the Services Component of the BOP.

The revised version of this classification, EBOPS 2010, updates that recommended in the previous MSITS 2002. It provides for further breakdowns of the BPM6 classification so as to meet a number of user requirements, including the provision of information required in connection with the General Agreement on Trade in Services (GATS).

The types of Services in this report therefore conforms to the recently released Manual on Statistics of International Trade in Services (MSITS2010) which reflects the updates of the Sixth Edition of the Balance of Payments and International Investment Position Manual (BPM6) and its detailed extension, the Extended Balance of Payments Services (EBOPS) Classification.

The twelve (12) main BPM6 standard services components as presented in this report are:

- 1. Manufacturing services on physical inputs owned by others.
- 2. Maintenance and repair services not included elsewhere (n.i.e.).
- 3. Transport.
- 4. Travel.
- 5. Construction.
- 6. Insurance and pension services.
- 7. Financial services.
- 8. Charges for the use of intellectual property not included elsewhere (n.i.e.).
- 9. Telecommunications, computer and information services.
- 10. Other business services.
- 11. Personal, cultural and recreational services.
- 12. Government goods and services not included elsewhere (n.i.e.).

The following definitions were extracted from the MSITS 2010.

Manufacturing services on physical inputs owned by others (MSITS 2010, Page 42)

Manufacturing services on physical inputs owned by others includes activities such as processing, assembly, labelling and packing that are undertaken by enterprises that do not own the goods. Examples include oil refining, liquefaction of natural gas and assembly of clothing and electronics. Excluded are the assembly of prefabricated construction (included in construction) and labelling, and packing incidental to transport (included in transport services).

The manufacturing is undertaken by an entity that does not own the goods and that is paid a fee by the owner. The ownership of the goods does not change, so no general merchandise transaction is recorded between the processor and the owner. Only the fee charged by the processor is included under this item, although such a fee may include the cost of materials purchased by the processor.

An international trade element exists where the work done is by a resident of one economy for the owner of the goods who is resident in another economy. The treatment of these services is not conditional on whether the goods were previously or subsequently in the physical possession of the owner or not.

Maintenance and repair services n.i.e. (MSITS 2010, Page 44)

Maintenance and repair services n.i.e. includes maintenance and repair work by residents on goods that are owned by non-residents (and vice versa). The repairs may be performed at the site of the repairer or elsewhere. Maintenance and repairs on ships, aircraft and other transport equipment are included in this item. Cleaning of transport equipment is included in transport services. Construction repairs and maintenance are included under construction. Maintenance and repairs of computers are included under computer services.

The value recorded for maintenance and repairs is the value of the repair work done, not the gross value of the goods before and after repairs. The value of maintenance and repairs encompasses any parts or materials supplied by the repairer and included in the price (parts and materials charged separately are excluded from services and included in general merchandise). Both minor repairs that maintain the item in working order and major repairs that extend the efficiency or capacity of the good or extend its life are included. No distinction is made between those repairs included by the customer in intermediate consumption and those included in capital formation.

Transport (MSITS 2010, Page 45)

Transport covers the process of carriage of people and objects from one location to another as well as related supporting and auxiliary services and rentals (charters) of carriers with crew. Also included are postal and courier services. Transport can be classified according to mode of transport and what is carried (passengers or freight).

A transport provider may subcontract in order to be able to use the services of other operators in providing part of the final transport service. Such services should be recorded on a gross basis. For example, a courier service provider might contract separately with more than one transport operator. Commissions payable by providers of transport services to an agent should be separately recorded.

EBOPS 2010 follows BPM6 in recommending a cross-classification of transport by mode of transport and by kind of service. While BPM6 recommends the identification of three modes of transport, EBOPS 2010 distinguishes 8 modes of transport, namely, sea, air, space, rail, road, internal waterway, pipeline and electricity transmission. EBOPS 2010 also identifies other supporting and auxiliary transport services as well as postal and courier services. EBOPS 2010 recommends the same classification of kind of service as BPM6, namely, transport of passengers, transport of freight, and other which includes other supporting and auxiliary services and postal and courier services.

Travel (MSITS 2010, Page 51)

The component of EBOPS 2010 differs from most internationally traded services in that it is transactor-based. Unlike most services in EBOPS, travel is not a specific product; rather, it encompasses a range of goods and services consumed by non-residents in the economy that they visit. Travel is defined as covering goods and services for own use or to be given away, acquired from an economy, by non-residents during visits to that economy. It covers stays of any length, provided that there is no change in residence. Travel includes goods and services acquired by persons undertaking study or medical care while outside the territory of residence. It also includes acquisitions of goods and services by seasonal, border and other short-term workers in the economy of employment.

4.1 Business travel

Business travel covers the acquisition of goods and services, for own use or to be given away, by persons whose primary purpose of travel is for business (including the goods and services for which they are reimbursed by employers). It does not include the sales or purchases that they may undertake on behalf of the enterprises they represent. Examples of persons travelling for business purposes include carrier crews stopping off or laying over; Government employees on official business; employees of international organizations on official business; employees travelling to economies where they are not resident on behalf of their employing enterprise; self-employed individuals travelling for business purposes; and border, seasonal and other short-term workers who are not resident in the economy in which they are employed and whose employer is resident in that economy.

The business activities undertaken while travelling may include production or installation work, sales campaigns, market exploration, commercial negotiations, missions, conferences, conventions, other meetings, and other business activities undertaken on behalf of an enterprise resident in another economy.

The business activities undertaken while travelling may include production or installation work, sales campaigns, market exploration, commercial negotiations, missions, conferences, conventions, other meetings, and other business activities undertaken on behalf of an enterprise resident in another economy.

The acquisition of goods and services for own use or to be given away by border, seasonal and other workers who are not resident in the economy where they are employed, and whose employer is resident in that economy, is separately identified in the EBOPS 2010 sub-component acquisition of goods and services by border, seasonal, and other short-term workers. All other business travel is included in the EBOPS 2010 sub-component other business travel. The separate identification of these items would facilitate reconciliation with tourism statistics.

4.2 Personal travel

Personal travel covers goods and services acquired by persons going abroad for purposes other than business, such as taking holidays, participation in recreational and cultural activities, visits to friends and relations, pilgrimage, and education and health-related purposes. MSITS 2010 recommends a breakdown of personal travel into three sub-components based on the primary purpose of personal travel:

Health-related, which includes expenditure for medical services, other health care, food, accommodation and local transport, acquired by persons travelling for medical reasons.

Education-related, which includes expenditure for tuition, food, accommodation, local transport and health services, acquired by non-resident students.

Other, which includes expenditure by those travelling neither for health nor for education as primary purposes. This category is usually the largest component of travel, as it includes all persons going abroad for holidays, recreational and cultural activities, visits to friends and relations, and pilgrimages.

Construction (MSITS 2010, Page 54)

Construction covers the creation, management, renovation, repair or extension of fixed assets in the form of buildings, land improvements of an engineering nature and other constructions such as roads, bridges and dams. It also includes related installation and assembly work, site preparation and general construction as well as specialized services such as painting, plumbing and demolition.

Construction is also valued on a gross basis in the sense that it can be disaggregated into construction abroad and construction in the compiling economy. Construction credits consist of credits for construction abroad and credits for construction in the compiling economy. Construction debits consist of debits for construction abroad and for debits construction in the compiling economy.

5.1 Construction abroad

Construction abroad comprises construction work for non-residents by enterprises resident in the compiling economy (export) and the goods and services acquired from residents in the host economy by those enterprises (import).

5.2 Construction in the reporting economy

Construction in the reporting economy comprises construction work for residents of the compiling economy by non-resident construction enterprises (import) and the goods and services acquired in the compiling economy from resident entities by those non-resident enterprises (export). Both sub-components of construction cover the work performed on construction projects and installations by employees of an enterprise in locations outside the economic territory of the enterprise.

Insurance and pension services (MSITS 2010, Page 57)

Insurance and pension services covers the provision to non-residents of various types of insurance by resident insurance enterprises, and vice versa.

MSITS 2010 recommends that insurance and pension services be disaggregated into four separate sub-components: direct insurance; reinsurance; auxiliary insurance; and pension and standardized guarantee services. Direct insurance is further broken down into life insurance, freight insurance and other direct insurance. Pension and standardized guarantee services is further broken down into pension services and standardized guarantee services.

Financial services (MSITS 2010, Page 63)

Financial services covers financial intermediation and auxiliary services, except those of insurance enterprises and pension schemes. These services include those usually provided by banks and other financial intermediaries and auxiliaries. Included are services provided in connection with transactions in financial instruments, as well as other services related to financial activity, encompassing, inter alia, deposit taking and lending, letters of credit, credit card services, commissions and charges related to financial leasing, factoring, underwriting and clearing of payments. Also included are financial advisory services, custody of financial assets or bullion, financial asset management, monitoring services, convenience services, liquidity provision services, risk assumption services other than insurance, merger and acquisition services, credit rating services, stock exchange services and trust services.

Financial services may be charged for by: explicit charges; margins on buying and selling transactions; asset management costs deducted from property income receivable, in the case of asset-holding entities; or margins between the interest rate and the reference rate on loans and deposits (referred to as financial intermediation services indirectly measured (FISIM)). EBOPS 2010 identifies FISIM separately from all other financial services. For financial intermediaries, the balance between explicit and implicit charges may vary over time and from institution to institution; thus, data on both are needed to obtain a complete picture of their supply of services.

Charges for the use of intellectual property n.i.e. (MSITS 2010, Page 67)

Charges for the use of intellectual property n.i.e. include:

Charges for the use of proprietary rights, such as patents, trademarks, copyrights, industrial processes and designs, trade secrets, and franchises, where rights arise from research and development, as well as from marketing

Charges for licences to reproduce and/or distribute intellectual property embodied in produced originals or prototypes, such as copyrights on books and manuscripts, computer software, cinematographic works and sound recordings, and related rights, such as for the recording of live performances and for television, cable or satellite broadcast

EBOPS 2010 recommends an extended breakdown of charges for the use of intellectual property n.i.e. This breakdown is as follows:

Franchise and trademark licensing fees, which covers all payments and charges for the use of trademarks and franchises.

Licences for the use of outcomes of research and development, which covers fees and charges for the use of proprietary rights arising from research and development.

Licences to reproduce and/or distribute computer software, which covers the charges for the authorized reproduction and/or distribution (through licensing agreements) of produced software originals. Distribution, in this sense, is not defined as wholesale and retail sale. The sale of a copy of a computer software package that is purchased by an individual or enterprise for individual use is not covered by a licence to distribute. The sale of the software for individual or personal use is recorded in computer services. Software sold on physical media with the right to perpetual use is included under goods.

Licences to reproduce and/or distribute audio-visual and related products, which is further broken down into two sub-components:

Licences to reproduce and/or distribute audio-visual products, which covers fees and charges for the authorized reproduction and/or distribution, through licensing agreements, of produced audio-visual originals or prototypes (for example, cinematographic works and sound recordings). Also included are rights relating to the reproduction and/or distribution of recordings of live performances and radio, television, cable and satellite broadcast.

Retransmission rights for sports events are also covered. Further information on audio-visual products is provided in the complementary grouping audio-visual transactions.

Licences to reproduce and/or distribute other products covers fees and charges for the authorized reproduction and/or distribution through licensing agreements of original works of authors (for example, translation rights), painters, sculptors, etc., excluding those relating to products of an audio-visual nature.

Telecommunications, computer, and information services (MSITS 2010, Page 70)

MSITS 2010 recommends that the BPM6 component telecommunications, computer, and information services be further disaggregated into three sub-components: telecommunications services, computer services and information services.

Computer services and telecommunications services are defined in terms of the nature of the service, not the method of delivery. To illustrate, provision of business services, such as accounting services, is included under the appropriate sub-component of other business services, even if these services are entirely delivered by computers or the Internet. Only amounts payable for transmission should be included under telecommunications services. Downloaded content is included in the appropriate services items.

Telecommunications services covers the broadcast or transmission of sound, images, data, or other information by telephone, telex, telegram, radio and television cable transmission, radio and television satellite, electronic mail, facsimile, etc., and includes business network services, teleconferencing and support services. It does not include the value of the information transported. Also included are mobile telecommunications services, Internet backbone services and online access services, including the provision of access to the Internet. Excluded are installation services for telephone network equipment (included in construction), and database services (included in information services).

Computer services consists of hardware- and software-related services and dataprocessing services. Table III.1 presents a classification of various arrangements involving software products and the related charges for their use as intellectual property. As shown in the table, some forms of software are classified under goods. EBOPS 2010 proposes a complementary grouping, computer software transactions, covering all transactions relating to computer software, be it services or goods transactions; and recommends the breakdown of computer services into computer software and other computer services.

Information services is divided into news agency services and other information services:

News agency services includes the provision of news, photographs and feature articles to the media

Other information services includes database services, such as database conception, data storage, and the dissemination of data and databases (including directories and mailing lists), both online and through magnetic, optical or printed media and web search portals (encompassing search engine services that find Internet addresses for clients who input keyword queries). Also included are: direct non-bulk subscriptions to newspapers and periodicals, whether by mail, electronic transmission or other means; other online content provision services; and library and archive services. (Bulk newspapers and periodicals are included under general merchandise.) Downloaded content that is not software or an audio-visual or related product is included in information services.

Other business services (MSITS 2010, Page 71)

MSITS 2010 coverage of other business services is identical to that of BPM6, although with a greater disaggregation. EBOPS 2010 identifies three sub-components: research and development services, professional and management consulting services and technical, trade-related and other business services. Within these three sub-components, a number of further breakdowns are suggested.

10.1 Research and development services

Research and development services covers those services that are associated with basic research, applied research and experimental development of new products and processes and covers activities in the physical sciences, the social sciences and the humanities.

The definition of research and development services used here, and in CPC, Version 2, is wider than the Frascati Manual 18 definition (which is used to define the scope of capital formation in the 2008 SNA). The definition used in MSITS 2010 includes other testing and other product development that may give rise to patents. To reflect this difference in coverage, EBOPS 2010 recommends a breakdown of research and development services into two subgroupings: work undertaken on a systematic basis to increase the stock of knowledge (reflecting the coverage of research and development within a 2008 SNA context) and other.

10.1.1 Work undertaken on a systematic basis to increase the stock of knowledge

Work undertaken on a systematic basis to increase the stock of knowledge is further broken down into two parts: provision of customized and non-customized research and development services and sale of proprietary rights arising from research and development.

10.1.1.1 Provision of customized and non-customized research and development services covers the provision of research and development services that are made-to-order (customized) and development of non-customized research and development, excluding sales of proprietary rights, and sales related to licences to reproduce or use

10.1.1.2 Sale of proprietary rights arising from research and development covers: patents, copyrights arising from research and development, industrial processes and designs (including trade secrets) and other. These items should be identified separately. Licences to reproduce and licences to use outcomes of research and development should be included under the appropriate category in charges for the use of intellectual property n.i.e. In practice, it may be difficult to differentiate all payments for licences to reproduce from the sale of proprietary rights, as in some cases the former will represent sales of proprietary rights.

Excluded are technical studies and consultancy work: both are included in professional and management consulting services.

10.1.2 Other

Other includes testing and other product/process development activities not included elsewhere.

10.2 Professional and management consulting services

Professional and management consulting services is broken down into two parts: legal, accounting, management consulting, and public relations services and advertising, market research and public opinion polling.

Services for the general management of a branch, subsidiary or associate provided by a parent enterprise or other affiliated enterprise are often included in legal, accounting, management consulting, and public relations services. However, reimbursements of ancillary services supplied by affiliated enterprises, such as transport, purchasing, sales and marketing, and computing, should be shown under the relevant specific heading. Management fees are included in other business services. Disproportionately large values of services between affiliated enterprises should be examined for signs that they are disguised dividends, for example, large fluctuations that do not reflect actual changes in the services provided.

10.2.1 Legal, accounting, management consulting, and public relations services

MSITS 2010 further breaks down the item legal, accounting, management consulting, and public relations services into legal services; accounting, auditing, bookkeeping and tax consulting services; and business and management consulting and public relations services:

10.2.1.1 Legal services includes legal advisory and representation services in any legal, judicial and statutory procedures; drafting services for legal documentation and instruments; certification consultancy; and escrow and settlement services.

10.2.1.2 Accounting, auditing, bookkeeping, and tax consulting services includes the recording of commercial transactions for businesses and others; examination services for accounting records and financial statements; business tax planning and consulting; and preparation of tax documents.

10.2.1.3 Business and management consulting and public relations services includes advisory, guidance and operational assistance services provided to businesses for business policy and strategy, and the overall planning, structuring and control of an organization. Included are management auditing; market management, human resources, production management and project management consulting; and such services as are related to improving the image of the clients and their relations with the public and other institutions.

10.2.2 Advertising, market research, and public opinion polling services

Advertising, market research, and public opinion polling services transacted between residents and non-residents, includes the design, creation and marketing of advertisements by advertising agencies; media placement, including the purchase and sale of advertising space; exhibition services provided by trade fairs; the promotion of products abroad; market research; telemarketing; and public opinion polling on various issues.

It may be desirable, if there are substantial resident to non-resident transactions, to show separately the value of the transactions in convention, trade-fair and exhibition organization services that are included in advertising, market research, and public opinion polling services. This particular item, which corresponds to class 8596 (“Convention and trade show assistance and organization services”) of CPC, Version 2, consists of organization of economic events (trade shows or exhibitions at regular or irregular intervals); organization of scientific or cultural meetings and congresses; and supply and setting up of exhibition equipment associated with the organization of exhibitions.

10.3 Technical, trade-related and other business services

Technical, trade-related and other business services is broken down into five subcomponents: architectural, engineering, scientific and other technical services; waste treatment and de-pollution, agricultural and mining services; operating leasing services; trade-related services; and other business services n.i.e.

10.3.1 Architectural, engineering, scientific and other technical services

Architectural, engineering, scientific and other technical services is broken down into three components:

10.3.1.1 Architectural services, which includes transactions related to the design of buildings

10.3.1.2 Engineering, which includes the design, development and utilization of machines, materials, instruments, structures, processes and systems. Services of this type involve the provision of designs, plans and studies related to engineering projects. Mining engineering is excluded and included instead in services incidental to mining, and oil and gas extraction

10.3.1.3 Scientific and other technical services, which include surveying; cartography; product testing and certification; and technical inspection services

10.3.2 Waste treatment and de-pollution, agricultural and mining services

Waste treatment and de-pollution, agricultural and mining services is broken down into three parts: waste treatment and de-pollution services; services incidental to agriculture, forestry and fishing; and services incidental to mining, and oil and gas extraction:

10.3.2.1 Waste treatment and de-pollution services includes: the treatment of radioactive and other waste; stripping of contaminated soil; cleaning up of pollution, including oil spills; restoration of mining sites; and decontamination and sanitation services. Also included are all other services that relate to the cleaning or restoring of the environment. If a Government issues a non-tradable emission permit and, alongside this permit, provides extensive services for the non-resident purchaser, the payment will be recorded in services according to the service provided (in most circumstances, as government goods and services n.i.e.). Other types of emission permit payments are excluded from services.

10.3.2.2 Services incidental to agriculture, forestry and fishing includes services that are incidental to agriculture, such as the provision of agricultural machinery with crew, harvesting, treatment of crops, pest control, animal boarding, animal care and breeding services. Services in hunting, trapping, forestry and logging and fishing are also included here, as are veterinary services.

10.3.2.3 Services incidental to mining, and oil and gas extraction includes mining services provided at oil fields and gas fields, including drilling, derrick building, repair and dismantling services and oil and gas well casing cementing. Services incidental to mineral prospecting and exploration, as well as mining engineering and geologic surveying, are also included here.

10.3.3 Operating leasing services

Operating leasing services encompasses the activity of renting out a produced asset under an arrangement that provides use of the asset to the lessee but does not involve the bulk transfer of risks and benefits of ownership to the lessee. The services include resident/nonresident leasing (rental) and charters without crew, of ships, aircraft and transport equipment, such as railway cars, containers and rigs.

10.3.4 Trade-related services

Trade-related services covers commissions on goods and service transactions payable to merchants, commodity brokers, dealers, auctioneers and commission agents. These services include, for example, the auctioneer's fee or agent's commission on sales of ships, aircraft and other goods. If the trader owns the goods being sold, the trader's margin is generally included indistinguishably in the value of the goods.

10.3.5 Other business services n.i.e.

Other business services n.i.e. includes distribution services for water, steam, gas and petroleum products as well as distribution services for electricity, where these are identifiable separately from transmission services (transmission of these products is recorded under transport); air conditioning supply; placement of personnel (the services provided by these personnel are recorded under the relevant services item); security and investigative services; translation and interpretation; photographic services; building cleaning; real estate services to businesses; and any other business services that cannot be classified to any of the business services listed above.

Personal, cultural, and recreational services (MSITS 2010, Page 75)

Personal, cultural, and recreational services comprises two sub-components, audiovisual and related services and other personal, cultural, and recreational services.

11.1 Audio-visual and related services

Audio-visual and related services covers services associated with audio-visual activities (movies, music, radio and television) as well as services relating to the performing arts. The coverage of this EBOPS item is therefore broader than that of CPC, Version 2, group 961 ("Audio-visual and related services").

In EBOPS, audio-visual and related services is further broken down into audiovisual services (corresponding to CPC, Version 2, group 961 (“Audio-visual and related services”)) and artistic related services (corresponding to CPC, Version 2, group 962 (“Performing arts and other live entertainment event presentation and promotion services”)) and group 963 (“Services of performing and other artists”).

11.1.1 Audio-visual services relates to the production of motion pictures (on film, videotape, or disk or transmitted electronically), radio and television programmes (live or on tape) and musical recordings. Performing arts and other live entertainment event presentation and promotion services (namely, live performances such as concerts and plays) are excluded from this item and included in artistic related services. However, the recording of live performances is included in audio-visual services and for these recordings, the same treatment as for other audio-visual products applies. Included in audio-visual services are amounts receivable or payable for rentals of audio-visual and related products and charges for access to encrypted television channels (such as those offering cable and satellite services). Mass-produced audio-visual products (movies and music, including recordings of live performances) that are purchased or sold outright or for perpetual use, are included under audio-visual services if downloaded (in other words, delivered electronically). However, those on CD-ROM, disk, etc., are outside the scope of the EBOPS 2010 standard categories (and included under general merchandise). Similar products obtained through a licence to use (other than when conveying perpetual use) are included in audio-visual services, as is other online content related to audio and visual media. Charges or licences to reproduce and/or distribute audio-visual products are excluded from audio-visual services and included in charges for the use of intellectual property n.i.e.

Also included are purchases and sales of ownership rights for entertainment such as radio and television broadcast originals, sound recordings, motion pictures, videotapes, television and radio programme originals, etc., over which legal or de facto ownership can be established by copyright. Table III.1 summarizes the treatment of intellectual property associated with audio-visual services as defined in EBOPS, as well as other types of intellectual property.

It would be useful to separately identify audio-visual originals, as the information on these products would be of use to compilers and analysts of national accounts.

11.1.2 Artistic related services includes the services provided by performing artists (actors, musicians, dancers, etc.), authors, composers and sculptors. It also includes services provided by independent models as well as set, costume and lighting designers. Transactions are included if the service providers are not employees of the entity making payments (otherwise, they represent compensation of employees). Also included are presentation and promotion services for performing arts and other live entertainment events. However, the recording of such events is included in audio-visual services.

Mass-produced artistic related products (for example, books), as well as related purchases and sales of ownership rights of literary or other artistic originals (excluding those covered under audio-visual), should be treated in the same way as audio-visual products as described above.

Transactions relating to the selling of exclusive rights (for example, the exclusivity of a publisher to publish literary works of an author) are not covered (this right of exclusivity is considered an asset, that is, a contract for future production, and the payment is included in the capital account).

11.2 Other personal, cultural, and recreational services

Other personal, cultural, and recreational services is divided into four components: health services, education services, heritage and recreational services and other personal services.

11.2.1 Health services comprises general and specialized human health services supplied by hospitals, doctors, nurses and paramedical and similar personnel, as well as laboratory and similar services, whether rendered remotely (through telemedicine or tele-diagnosis) or on-site. Included are diagnostic-imaging services and pharmaceutical, radiology and rehabilitation services. Excluded are health services provided to non-residents who are present in the territory of the service provider (included in travel) and veterinary services (included in services incidental to agriculture, forestry and fishing).

11.2.2 Education services comprises services relating to all levels of education whether delivered through correspondence courses, via television, satellite, or the Internet, or by teachers, among others, who supply services directly in host economies. Excluded are education services provided to non-residents who are present in the territory of the service supplier (included in travel).

11.2.3 Heritage and recreational services includes services associated with museums and other cultural, sporting, gambling and recreational activities, except those involving persons outside their economy of residence (included in travel). The amounts paid for gambling, including for lottery tickets and the placing of bets, consist of two elements:

A service charge receivable by the unit organizing the lottery or gambling (this charge may also have to cover taxes on gambling)

A transfer to cover the amounts payable to the winners and, in some cases, amounts payable to charities

The value of the lottery and other gambling and betting services supplied by or to non-residents is estimated as the amount wagered by non-residents, multiplied by the overall ratio of services to the total amount wagered for that gambling operator or type of gambling. This method for separately identifying the service component is similar to the method used for insurance services.

11.2.4 Other personal services includes social services, membership dues of business associations, domestic services, etc.

Government goods and services n.i.e. (MSITS 2010, Page 77)

Government goods and services n.i.e. covers:

Goods and services supplied by and to enclaves, such as embassies and military bases

Goods and services acquired from the host economy by diplomats, consular staff and military personnel located abroad and their dependants

Services supplied by and to Governments and not included in other categories of services

EBOPS 2010 recommends that government goods and services n.i.e. be further classified according to the following breakdown:

12.1 Embassies and consulates

12.2 Military units and agencies

12.3 Other government goods and services n.i.e.

This further breakdown is based on the transactor, that is, the government unit undertaking the transaction, rather than on the type of transaction.

ABOUT THE DATA

SOURCES OF DATA FOR THE COMPILATION OF TRADE IN SERVICES STATISTICS IN THE CARIBBEAN COMMUNITY (CARICOM)

The Central Banks of Barbados, The Bahamas, Belize, Guyana, Jamaica, Suriname and Trinidad and Tobago are responsible for the production of the Balance of Payments. The Central Statistical Office of Trinidad and Tobago is associated with the production of the Balance of Payments in that country. For the Organisation of Eastern Caribbean States (OECS) Member States, the National Statistical Offices (NSOs) produce the Balance of Payments with support from the Eastern Caribbean Central Bank (ECCB).

At the time of preparing this report, twelve (12) Member States have adopted the BPM6 manual, while nine (9) have presented their International Trade in Services Statistics in EBOPS format, based on the MSITS 2010. In the case of Barbados, Trade in Services data was submitted up to 2016, while the information for 2017 and 2018 were extracted from an economic report 'Review of Barbados' Economic Performance' and which were not in the EBOPS format.

PRODUCTION OF SERVICES – EFFORTS AT IMPLEMENTING THE 2008 SNA IN CARICOM

Relative to the 2008 SNA, efforts are in place in the Region to assist countries in implementing the 2008 SNA for the production of National Accounts. These efforts have been supported by regional workshops convened by the CARICOM Secretariat and supported by the United Nations Statistics Division (UNSD). The European Union through the Ninth European Development Fund (EDF) with the support of Eurostat has provided support to the implementation of 2008 SNA in CARICOM. Further support is expected under the Tenth EDF.

APPROACH TO PRESENTING THE DATA

As mentioned elsewhere, this report seeks a common approach to the production of statistics on International Trade in Services using as a basis the statistics provided at the level of the EBOPS as compiled and submitted by CARICOM Member States. It is recognized that some Member States for which data have been produced in this report, compile data in accordance with the BPM6 and its detailed extension the EBOPS 2002 and for other countries the BPM6 and its detailed extension the EBOPS 2010, thereby resulting in differences in the level of disaggregation of data.

Ideally, therefore, the initial approach was to compile the services statistics at the level of the EBOPS for countries in accordance with the twelve main BPM6 standard components.

Tables 1.1.1 – 1.1.3 show a summary of services statistics by these broad service areas for the years 2006 - 2011. This was to show the change over time in receipts, payments and balance of services. The second set of data from Tables 1.2.1-1.4.6 presents a series of data for the period 2006-2011 by Member States, individually highlighting each of the broad service areas for receipts, payments and balance of payments as well as the total receipts, payments and balances of services.

Tables 1.5.1 – 1.5.13 attempt to disaggregate at the level of CARICOM and for each Member State the broad service areas for receipts, payments and balance of services.

Tables 2.1.1 – 2.12.3 provide the most disaggregated data on services that are available for each Member State by receipts, payments and balance of services. This set of tables effectively shows the work that is currently progressing at the regional and national levels relative to movement from the BPM5 and BPM6 standard presentation to the more detailed EBOPS format. Annex II shows the BPM6, EBOPS format.

DATA COVERAGE AND QUALITY

A thorough evaluation of this report and the advancement of work that was undertaken under the Ninth EDF- Trade in Services and Investment Statistics project activity show the progress that was made by countries with respect to the compilation of services statistics at the level of the EBOPS. However, data gaps still exist. Additionally, a close scrutiny of the data presented, the explanatory notes and, concepts and definitions provide some leads with regard to problems of coverage which is also reflected in the comparison of key components over time and across Member States. These issues have implications for the accuracy and quality of the data that are presented.

ISSUES SURROUNDING DATA COMPILATION

The use of different versions of the EBOPS imply that strictly speaking the data are not comparable at the very detailed level due to the different format/content of the EBOPS based on the MSITS 2002 and MSITS 2010; Travel –Acquisition of goods and services by border, seasonal and other short term workers is a category for which it appears that information may not be available or may not be relevant for all countries; The category, Other Business Services, reflect coverage issues, detailed breakdown for these categories are not available.

Personal Cultural and Recreational Services is a category that reflects coverage issues. Work has been put in place in 2012 with follow-up in 2013.
